As corny as it sounds, skateboarding is the best – no other way to put it. It aint rocket science – It's the one thing that's always out there for you, no complications, no excuses, no confusion. It's what you make of it.

It really doesn't matter what you do or how you do it, skating leaves it up to you to decide how it should be defined. If you want to throw yourself down some stairs at 3am – cool, if you want to grind the red curb at the closed shopping mall on Sunday morning – what are you waiting for ? Go get some.

Skateboarding will never complicate itself with definitions or categories, that's all noise by sideliners. Lifers know. Some sessions are good, some are bad and you take 'em both thankfully 'cause that's the way it works. Styles come and go and trends fade in and out, Skateboarding could care less.

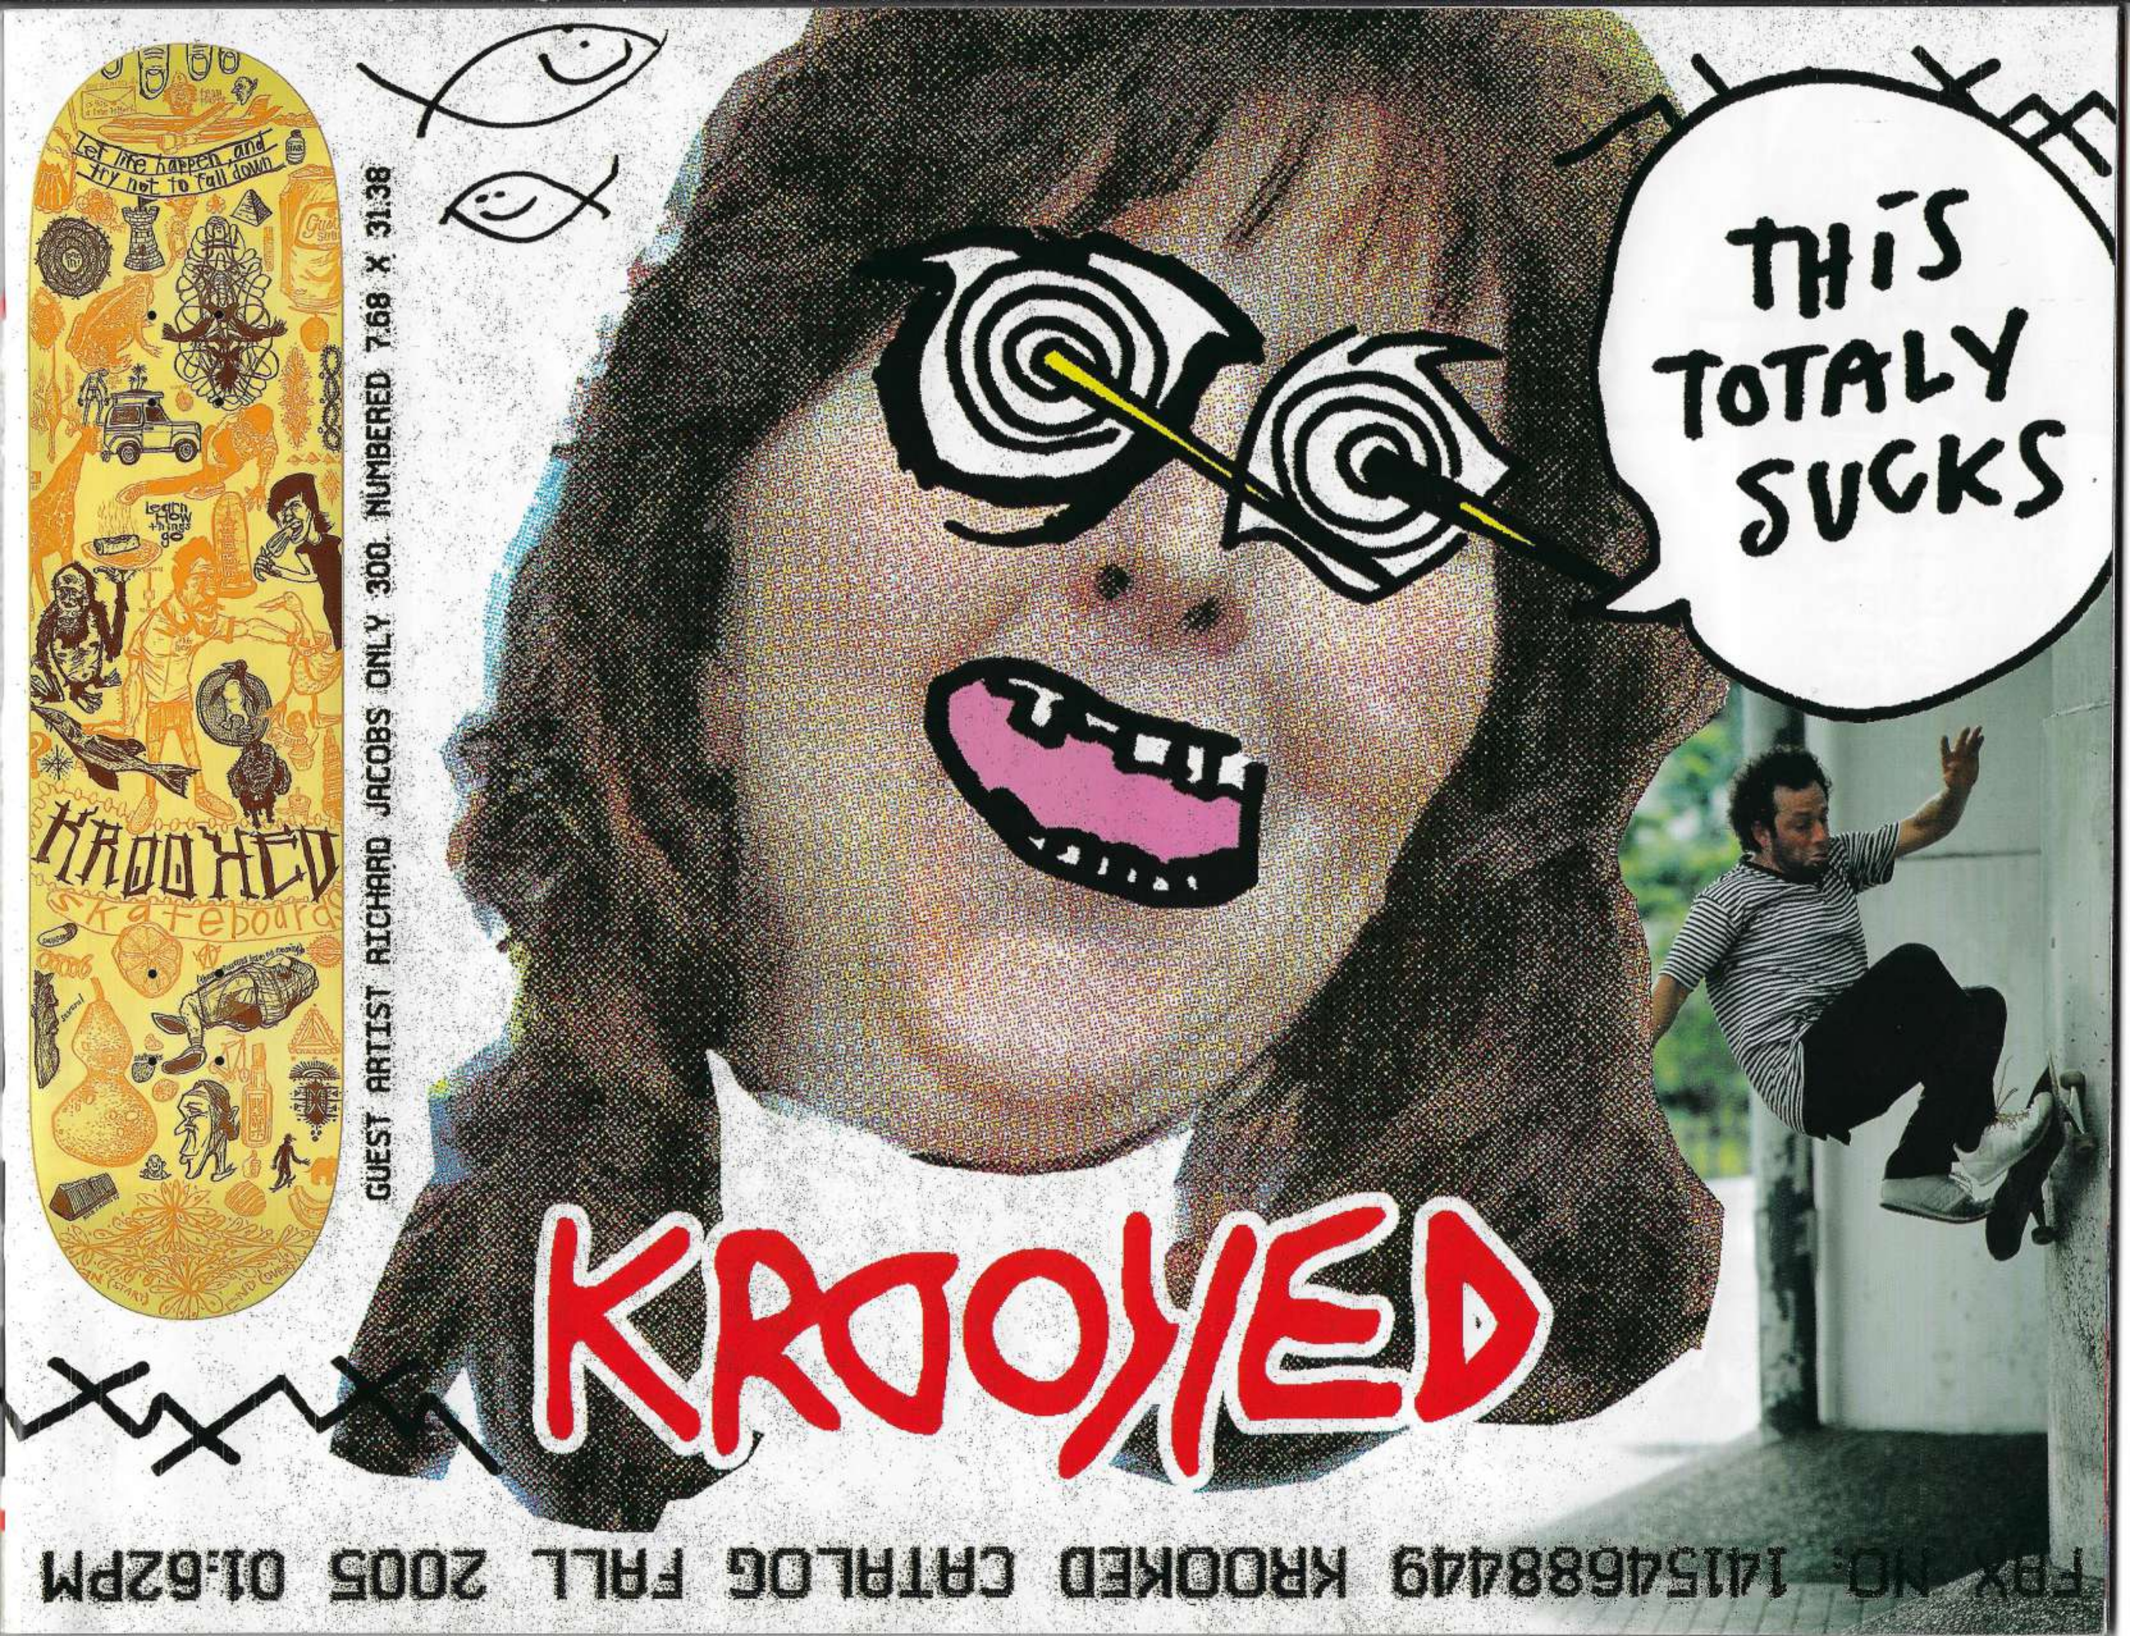

Skating only asks one thing from you. It's a basic, simple question but one where the answer could possibly stay with you for the rest of your life.

All it wants to know is - Are you in or out?

Pretty simple huh?

REAL SKATEBOARDS

As boards get wider for control and stability so should the constructions.

Real's Exclusive Control Freak Mold was designed specifically for boards over 7.5". The Control Freak Mold was designed directly based on what the team was looking for. Built into the design is a proportionally longer area between where the nose and the tail begin to turn up. This helps get a quicker pop off both the nose and tail and surpasses the control of a larger board with an older shorter bend area. A wider flat area covering more of the board was also worked into the Control Freak Mold for maximum foot stability without losing any of the control gained from side to side concave.

Roll Forever.
